++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Some early rain, sleet and snow. Brightening up later.

Today:
Mostly cloudy with patchy rain or sleet spreading southeastwards during the morning, perhaps with some snow in the west at first. Sunny spells and isolated showers developing by the afternoon. Still rather cold, but feeling warmer in sunnier areas later. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Soon becoming dry this evening with skies clearing across most parts. Widely cold and frosty overnight, especially in eastern areas. Some mist or freezing fog patches likely in the south. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Tuesday:
Isolated mist or fog patches at first, otherwise a largely sunny morning after a very cold start. Cloudier by the afternoon, but still with some decent spells of sunshine. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Some isolated daytime showers, otherwise mainly dry with decent sunny or clear periods. Daytime temperatures near normal. Overnight frosts with some mist and fog, though soon clearing by day.
